

SOCIAL VALUE AND CONSTRUCTION

An Infrastructure Intelligence Live online event, Friday 26 March 2021 from 10am – 12.30pm on Zoom

The Infrastructure Intelligence Live series of events continues with this online conference looking at one of the hottest topics facing the construction sector - social value. Social value is increasingly being highlighted as a crucial requirement on construction and infrastructure projects, with more and more clients, especially the government, asking for the companies they work with to quantify the social good they can deliver on projects.

This conference, organised in association with Infrastructure Intelligence's Events and Communications Strategic Partner, BECG, will take a deep dive into the issue of social value and construction and look to map a way forward that can help to deliver a social legacy for construction and infrastructure as well as a technical one.
